THIS VOLUME WAS prepared and edited by authority of the State of New Jersey, at the request of the New Jersey Historical Society, acting under its Committee of Colonial Documents. That Committee during its preparation was constituted as follows:

EDWARD A. ARMSTRONG,
JOSEPH F. FOLSOM,
HIRAM E. DEATS.

Preface

THIS FIFTH VOLUME of "Abstracts of Wills" of New Jersey, like the fourth volume, has been prepared, so far as the abstracts themselves are concerned, by Dr. Joseph H. Satterthwaite, of Trenton, an expert in such matters. The Editor arranged them in alphabetical form, prepared the manuscript for the printer and superintended the double Index. There has been followed in the text the preceding practice of copying exactly the spellings of proper names of persons and places, regardless of present spellings, and whether or not such spellings conform with similar names in the same abstract. This fact may lead many who use this work to suppose that hundreds of erroneously spelled names are the fault of the abstracter, or of the printer, when it is not so. Perhaps in some cases very bad chirography has led to some errors in this direction.

Whether lawyers ignorant of proper names drafted many of the wills so badly mixed in the spellings of surnames or first names, or whether many such were written by the testators themselves, it would be difficult to decide, but the facts are as they are.

It should also be said that, where the name of a testator or testatrix, as printed in bold face type at the head of an abstract, differs in surname or first name from the same surname or first name in the body of the abstract, it is because the testator or testatrix so signed his or her name to the will. In all cases it is the signed name to a will which appears at the head of an abstract.

It may be asked why the final accounts of estates are sometimes given with names of other persons benefitted by them, while usually they are not given. The reason is that such may be helpful to indicate relationship, or for some other good purpose. In that matter the abstracter has used his best judgment. As a rule, however, all the abstracts are made upon a uniform plan, giving the essential features for the use of a descendant, genealogist, or biographer.

Where wills, administrations, etc., were regularly recorded at Trenton, the book and page where the record may be found are stated. Where originals were simply filed as papers, but not recorded, as happened with many wills and inventories, the reference given is to the number of the filing case in which the original papers may be found. The books of record and all original papers in the matters noted are preserved in the well-lighted basement of the Secretary of State's office at Trenton, with a polite and trained official in charge.

It may be of interest to some readers, not familiar with the exact value of a few of the terms or expressions employed in various wills and inventories, to say that the word "yeoman" was in common use to signify a freeholder. The "£" (pound), which, with shillings and pence, constituted the lawful basis for the calculation of financial accounts, is to be valued at about $2.50, although its purchasing power in that day was probably five times what it now is.

It may be noted also that in various wills the word "brother," as used, has an uncertain meaning, and may refer to brother-in-law, step- or half-brother, or to a member of the same religious denomination; and that where names of testators in the bold face type are spelled in some alternate manner it signifies that in the same document, or some correlated document, proof of such variation occurs.

As is stated in the "Cautionary Word" on a succeeding page, the "Index of Names of Persons" (which has been made under the Editor's direction), needs to be examined with more care than is usual in an ordinary book index, just because of the irregular and bad spellings. While in the Index many spellings have been rectified to suit present-day custom and some combined, we have not had a cast iron rule in the spelling of either surnames or first names, preferring sometimes (especially as to first names) to follow the abstract. Particularly in the case of old Dutch families it will be found that the same first name was spelled in all kinds of ways, such, for instance, as Altje, spelled Altye, Aaltie, Aletie, Ayltje, etc.; Johannes, spelled Johannis, Joannes, Johannis, Hance, Hans, Yohanis, etc. We have not harmonized such first names in the Index, except occasionally, generally taking a choice of that which seemed to be in most use in the wills themselves. In any case the spellings in the Index of personal names are not likely to mislead an intelligent user of the volume. In the matter of English, Swedish, etc., first names, there are many which some will consider even more curious, and not now in customary use. We present a few examples of such selected at random:

Aniager, Asena, Bathnifer, Bathinfiath, Caplinetie, Clatworthy, Cleffen, Creyfere, Eccord, Enloes, Eusebe, Gartery, Goula, Hantail, Hanyurre. Itea, Lorubemate, Lovisa, Lutis, Macel, Melyn, Merela, Morelise, Poltis, Racey, Resia, Salerah, Salathiel. Seveler, Shedlock, Springett, Sybilah, Syndony, Thomasin, Trustrum, Trypany, Vesti, Violetea, Zebina.

One feature of the Index, which has not heretofore been followed in preceding volumes, is the inclusion of maiden names of daughters or sisters in addition to their married names. For example, if John Jones has a daughter, Mary Allen, she is indexed not only under Mary Allen, but under Mary Jones. If he had a married sister, Martha Smith, she is also indexed under Martha Jones.

It is also to be remembered that, as a rule, the Index of Persons does not include the names of testators, etc., printed in the bold face type throughout the volume, and which are alphabetically arranged. It is as highly important to consult those names as the Index itself.

Probably two volumes more will complete the "Abstract of Wills" in the series of "New Jersey Archives," including from the year 1781 to about 1804, after which the recording of wills, etc., was transferred from the Secretary of State's office in Trenton to the Clerk's or Register's offices in the various counties. These will be published in due course as the State makes the necessary appropriations.

THE EDITOR.

Cautionary Word

In searching for personal names, consult not the "Index of Persons" alone, at the end of this volume, but also the alphabetical list of testators, etc., in the body of the work, as such names, in bold face type, are not repeated in the Index.

And, as to the Index itself, look at possible spellings of surnames and not only as to established modern spellings.

Errata

On page 379, the bold face heading of abstract which reads, "Paterson, Thomas, Jr.," should read "Parsons, Thomas, Jr."

Calendar of New Jersey Wills

NOTE—The books cited as Libers 1, 2, 3, etc., are of West Jersey wills. Those cited as Libers A, B, C, etc., are of East Jersey wills. Where matters beside recorded wills, such as inventories, accounts, etc., are noted, the originals may be found in the proper envelopes (arranged by counties), reference to which is made in the volumes (three volumes) entitled "Index to Wills," published by the Secretary of State in 1912 and 1913, which should always be consulted in case originals are to be referred to. Where the chief matter is not of record in books, the envelope numbers are given herewith, although in Bergen, Essex, Middlesex and Monmouth counties, the original papers are bound instead of being in envelopes. All original matters herein abstracted are to be found in the Secretary of State's office at Trenton. All proper names are believed to be spelled as in the originals, even when, in the same will, the spellings differ.

1774, Feb. 18. Bryant, Joshua, now of Elizabeth Town, but late of the Island of Grenada, in the West Indies, doctor of physic; will of. Sister, Rebecca Deane (if I die of my present illness, while in this place), is to take all my effects I may have, here or elsewhere, Sauchs, my negro, who is to be sold to some person who will be good to him, as he has been a good slave to me. Sister, Mrs. Rebecca Deane, of Elizabeth Town, widow, to have my real and personal estate, except as hereafter disposed of, for her better support and education of her 3 children. My other relatives have plenty of this world's goods. The most I have in this world is in the Island of Grenada, and must be collected for the benefit of my said sister, by some person living there. I therefore appoint my friends, James Cox and George Fitzgerald, merchants at St. George, in said Island, to be Executors. I have a house and lot in the Carenage, near and contiguous to St. George, in said Island, which I desire to be sold. To Penelope Perkinson, alias Wilson, now living in the said house, as my tenant at will, in consideration of her good services to me as my housekeeper for some years past, £100, and furniture in said house, except a few articles here mentioned, and my 2 slaves, Othello and Mary, and my surgical instruments, which are to be sold. The 5 hogsheads of rum and ½ pipe of wine, to be sold. My brother, Dr. William Bryant, of Kingsbury, near Trenton, N. J., to have my books. I am informed by my brother-in-law, William P. Smith, Executor of my brother, Ebenezer Bryant, deceased, that there has been loss in settlement of the estate, occasioned by his advancing to me a goodly sum soon after my brother's death, which was due to me from the estate; therefore I desire my said sister to pay to him what she is able. The money due to me to be collected, which I have as being in partnership with John Wharton. My Executors are to enquire concerning a Philip Obin, who owes me £130, and who used to sail to and fro among the Islands, of whom I have heard nothing for 2 years, and collect the debt if possible. My Executors may send letters and money to Philadelphia, to the care of my friend, Dr. Samuel Duffield, for the benefit of my said sister. Witnesses—Elias Boudinot, William Livingston, Jr., Beecher P. Smith. Proved Feb. 25, 1774. Letters of administration cum testamento annexo were granted to Mrs. Rebecca Deane.

Lib. 22, p. 55.

1776, Jan. 11. Erskine, Robert; will of. I, Robert Erskine, son of Rev'd Ralph Erskine, author of the Gospel Sonnets, &c., by the Providence of God at present in America, for the purpose of directing, conducting and taking charge of several Iron Works, and other lands, belonging to gentlemen in England, who stile themselves the Proprietors of the New York and New Jersey Iron Works. Had I got payment from my debtors, I would have satisfied my creditors; they in general gave me a Letter of Licence for 2 years, on my giving up all my bond, note and book debts, they not requiring my household goods, and the whole of my effects, upon oath, as, in case of bankruptcy; none of them thought proper to renew their demands, during the space of 7 or 8 years afterwards, and their demands became outlawed. They looked for payment to a person abroad, in whose hands the greatest part of their and my effects lay, who has made them some remittances. Being thus deprived of my patrimony, what I have now of worldly goods has been obtained by my labor as a surveyor and engineer, since my quitting the mercantile business. My personal debts in this country are small. The business relating to the Iron Works will be found in New York. Wife, Elizabeth, all my effects, which consist of household goods, negros, and money due me from the Iron Works for my salary and otherwise as agent, except what I have directed her to apply, part of the money arising from the agency commissions, mentioned in the schedule annexed. I have been author of several inventions, and particularly a machine called the Centrifugal Engine, and the consequent improvement of pump work in the Navy, and I bequeath $\frac{1}{2}$ of such reward to the creditors of Erskine and Swenton, in gratitude for their indulgence, and the other $\frac{1}{2}$ to my Executrix. Executrix—wife, Elizabeth. Witnesses—Will Pagan, Robert Mercer, Robert Monteath.

Philadelphia, April 27, 1779. Acknowledged before us, Rob't Aitken, witness, John Thomson, Robert Smith.

Commissions from June, 1774, to Jan. 1776, on money at $2\frac{1}{2}$, sales from $3\frac{1}{2}$, and goods purchased at 5 p. ct., amounts to about £1,000 curren'y, please God, when the books are closed for last year. This shall be further elucidated. About the above sum, however, is due to me as the proprietors have thrown the whole of this concern upon me, without granting any credit or assistance for transacting this business:

To Richard Atkinson	£300.19.0.
Rob. Mure	47. 5.0.
Wm. Graham Taylor	17.15.0.
David Mactland	100.

Ringwood May 28, 1778. The balance due me the 1st of this year was £3,764.3.8, and is now about £4,500. Exclusive of cash for the use of the works, there is deposited at Ringwood, £10,040, for the payment of a balance, for which I owe on account of the proprietors, which is about £3,764.2.9¼. My own property of every kind I give to my wife, Elizabeth.

Ringwood April 5, 1779. My wife is to remit to Philip Taylor, formerly packer in Leadenhall Street, £200, with whom I once lodged.

Will proved at Gloucester, Nov. 21, 1780. Elizabeth Erskine, Executrix, sworn at Bergen, Dec. 6, 1780.

1811, Oct. 15. Petition. Whereas George Job of South Amboy made will 29 of March, 1777, and shortly after died, and among other things gave to his wife, Elizabeth, the profits of his plantation, during her life, and, after her death, should be sold, and the money divided among his daughters, Amy, Rachel, Rebecca, Ann, Elizabeth and Osse, so far as to make £200 to each, and if any should be left, to his 9 children. His wife, Elizabeth, who was the acting Executrix, has enjoyed the said plantation to within a few months, when she also died, and Isaac Still, another Executor, is dead, and John Wetherill, the other Executor, did never qualify, and now refuses to do so, and the Executors can no longer sell the said land, and the heirs of said George Job are dispersed and hard to be found, and some of them are minors, and now a title cannot be made, without an Act of the Legislature; hence this petition. And, further, the said Amy Job is one of the daughters and is a subscriber, and Redford Job represents the shares of Rachel and Rebecca, by conveyances from them, and Ann and Elizabeth are dead, whose children cannot be got at, and Osse married Thomas Parker. Therefore we pray to have a bill passed, whereby Redford Jobs and Thomas Parker can make sale and convey the same. Signed Thomas Parker, Osse Parker, Abraham Barkeley, George J. Barkeley, Amy Job and Redford Job.

1774, June 16. Leaming, Aaron, of Cape May Co., yeoman; will of. I declare that my son, Jonathan, was born of the body of my wife, Mary, in lawful wedlock, the 5th of July, 1738; and my son, Aaron, the 28th of Aug., 1740; and my daughter, Sarah, now the wife of Jesse Hand, the 21st of Feb., 1743/4; and my son, Mathias, the 19th of Sept., 1749; all according to Old Stile; and my daughter, Mary, the 19th of Oct., 1753; and my son, Persons, the 23rd of July, 1756, and was called Persons after his grandfather, John Persons. My son, Mathias, died the 27th of Sept., 1763; and my son, Aaron, died the 31st of Aug., 1764. Wife, Mary, $\frac{1}{2}$ of my estate. Son, Jonathan, all my estate on the Seven Mile Beach, and the marsh, lands, creeks and thoroughfares which I purchased of the New Jersey Society, and the tracts which I purchased of Isaac Hand, Sept. 7, 1740, part whereof I now live on; also that tract which I purchased of Richard Osborn; also the plantation which Richard Osborn sold to Jeremiah Leaming, and, by his death, descended to me; also the tracts I purchased of the New Jersey Society by several deeds, joining one another, and some of them to the plantation I live on, and so making one plantation, bounded on the southeast by waters called Ben Hands Sound; on the southwest by lands of Elijah Mathews and Jesse Hand; on the west end by lands heretofore said to belong to John Shaw; on the north by land supposed to contain 55 acres, that Jeremiah Leaming purchased of Executors of Richard Smith; on the northeast by lands of David Corsen, John Leonard, William Smith, and the estate of Ananias Osborn, deceased; all of which tracts are situated in Middle Precinct of Cape May Co. For dividing my lands at the Bay side, on the southwest side of Diers Creek, I order a line to be drawn from a smooth square red cedar post marked D C:T:S:1756, set up close to the northeast side of the road, that leads from the plantation, formerly of William Whitlock, to the seaside, and formerly called Whitlock's road; now from Daniel Cresse to Philip Cresse, and standing in the headline of the plantation of 500 acres that was Whitlock's, now Daniel Cresse's and others, where that crosses the said road, and said to be a corner of some land of Daniel Cresse, sold to Thomas Smith; I say that a line be drawn straight from the said post to the place where the said road crosses the southeastmost back swamp made by Diers Creek, which line is to be called Court Line. Daughter, Mary Leaming, Jr., land at the mouth of Diers Creek, as far in the Bay as my land extends, and running up the southwest side of Diers Creek, till it comes northwest from the place where the line ditch between my land and Joseph Savage comes, down to Diers Creek. . . . thence west to Delaware Bay; also a tract along the said Whitlock's road, and runs to a white oak marked 1725, being a tree that was Randal Hewit's, Christopher Church's and Aaron Leaming's corner. Daughter, Mary, is to have the Cedar Hammock beach, at a place called Cedar Hammocks, bounded on the northwest by Delaware Bay, on northeast by Goshen Creek, on southeast by lines that was the West Jersey Society, and beach now owned by the children of Thomas Hand, deceased. Daughter, Sarah, wife of Jesse Hand, land on Delaware Bay, bounded by land of Randal Hewet, Sr., etc. Son, Persons, the tract which I had by the will of my mother, between plantation that was James Edwards and Jeremiah Leaming's; also the tracts which, by deed dated 16 of Sept., 1773, I bought of Ezra Hand and wife, Elizabeth, being the middle $\frac{1}{2}$ part of the plantation that formerly belonged to James Edwards. Son, Pearson, 11 acres of land and marsh, which I bought, 24th of Aug., 1767, of John Mathews and wife, Phebe, being part of the plantation formerly belonging to William Mathews, and is on the southwest side of Fishing Creek; also a tract on Diers Creek, along my daughter Mary's land; also all of the Island, called Nummys Island; also my estate in Island called Five Mile Beach; also Samuel Hands Cove. Edward Church, by deed dated 8th of May, 1765, made a deed to me in trust for the use of Parsons Leaming, for 25 acres of marsh and water, at Eddy Point, which I give to my son, Parsons; also a tract at the end of Court Line; also the rest of my lands, on the southwest of Whitlock's road, except what I shall devise to my granddaughter, Priscilla

Leaming. Son, Jonathan, tract that was by Shamgar Hand's. Granddaughter, Priscilla Leaming, part of the plantation where Jeremiah Leaming lived, and which descended to me by his death, and is at the southwest end of Edmond's meadow. Son, Jonathan, tract on Delaware Bay shore, between Diers Creek and Pearse's Point; also 47 acres of swamp at Culverin, and 5 acres of swamp, which I bought of Joseph Badcock, at the peach orchard. The rest of my lands on the northwest side of Denise's Creek, and the Cedar Swamp Creek, that empties therein, and the Great Cedar swamp, as far northwest as the line of Cape May Co. extends, I give to my daughter, Mary Leaming, Jr. Whereas, my father returned 180 acres of land at Cowders, situated between 413 acres returned to John Swift, and the 400 acres returned to John Scott, the said 180 acres being recorded in Lib. M, folio 210, in the Surveyor General's office at Burlington, and bounded on the west end by Maurice River, I give the same to my daughter, Mary Leaming. All my lands on the west side of Prince Maurice River, in Cumberland Co., I give to my daughter Sarah, and my daughter, Mary. Daughter, Sarah, 200 acres, which I bought of William Barker, the 13th of Feb., 1745, being the southwest end of the 413 acres that was recorded to John Swift, in Surveyor General's office in Burlington, in Lib. A, folio 65. I also give her the 200 acres that is recorded to me in the Surveyor General's office, in Burlington, in Lib. H, folio 461. Whereas, Thomas Byerly, by deed, 14th of March, 1723, sold to Andrew Erixon 1,155 acres of land, situated at the mouth of Prince Maurice River, and on the east side of said river, which Jeremiah Leaming bought of said Erixon's children, and which, by the death of Jeremiah Leaming, descended to me, I now give to my son, Jonathan, a part of the same, which begins at the mouth of said river, thence south 78 degrees east so far as till the next line may be drawn, as follows, thence, north 35 degrees east to the back line of the said 1,155 acres, so that this line shall pass 30 perches westward of the new house, lately built by Jeremiah Leaming, and wherein his family, that kept his cattle and plantation, there lived when he died, standing in his new orchard that was set out in 1772, etc., which I give to my son, Jonathan. Son, Parsons, the rest of said 1,155 acres. Son, Parsons, is to have $\frac{1}{2}$ of the rest of my lands in Cumberland Co.; and the other $\frac{1}{2}$ thereof I give to my son, Jonathan. Granddaughter, Mary Hand, daughter of Jesse Hand, 4 acres of land, which by deed, 17th of April, 1769, I bought of Jesse Hand, Samson Hacok, and his wife, Sarah Hacok, and being part of the plantation whereon the said Samson Hacok then lived, in the Middle Precinct. Grandson, Jeremiah Hand, son of Jesse Hand, 8 acres of land, being the 5th tract conveyed to me by the New Jersey Society, by deed 1st of June, 1747, and is in the Middle Precinct, and is on the northeast side of the road, leading from Thomas Leaming to William Eldridge's landing, at Goshen, bounded northeast by David Corson, and by Thomas Leaming, and my 170 acres, called Beaver Dam tract. Whereas, by deed dated 17th of Oct., 1754, I bought of the New Jersey Society, 65 acres in Middle Precinct, bounded southeast, part by land that was formerly old John Reeves, since belonging to Philip Godfrey Reeves, Isard, etc., bounded southwest by lands surveyed for Henry or John Leonard, now Thomas Leaming's, and northeast by Jesse Hand, I give it to my granddaughters, Sarah Hand and Lydia Hand, the daughters of Jesse Hand. Whereas, by deed 6th of Aug. 1754, I bought of John Mackey and Daniel Norton, 48 acres, partly in Pine Neck, in Middle Precinct, and partly in the adjacent swamp, at or above Providence Ludlam's mill, and between Christopher Leaming and Jeremiah Ludlam's lands, I give it to my grandson, Aaron Hand, son of Jesse Hand. Whereas, Richard Smith, by deed, bought of the New Jersey Society, about 55 acres in the Middle Precinct, on both sides of the road from where Thomas Leaming now lives to Goshen Landing, bounded on the south side by my land, and by the west end by a 12-acre tract I have since bought, and on the east end by land, which said tract the Executors of Richard Smith sold to Jeremiah Leaming, and did descend to me, one moiety thereof, I give to my grandson, Aaron Leaming, the son of Jonathan Leaming, and the other moiety I give to my grandson, Jonathan Leaming, Jr. Daughter, Sarah Hand, $\frac{1}{2}$ of the 170 acres, called Beaver Dam, which I own in partnership with Thomas Leaming, which we bought of the New Jersey Society, 17 of June, 1745; also the other tract that joins thereto, which Thomas Leaming and I bought of Jeremiah Ludlam, by deed 6th of Aug., 1745. I am intitled to one-eighth part of a Propriety in West Jersey, which I give to my sons, Parsons and Jonathan. As for all my Propriety rights, which shall not be returned at the time of my death, I give $\frac{1}{2}$ thereof to Parsons Leaming, and the other $\frac{1}{2}$ to Jonathan Leaming. Son, Jonathan, my books of surveys. Daughter, Sarah, my negro girl, Nanny. Daughter, Mary, my negro girl, Sue. Executors—wife, Mary, my daughters, Sarah and Mary, and my sons, Jonathan and Parsons. Witnesses—Jacob Smith, Jonathan Smith, Elijah Matthews, Steven Stevens.

1776, Sept. 16. Codicil. Whereas, Thomas Leaming, Jr., and I purchased of Silas and Nathan Young, and their wives, a tract on the branches and stream of East Creek, of 510 acres, I give my estate therein to my daughter, Mary Leaming, Jr. Whereas, Jeremiah Leaming, at the time of signing his will, was under an illegal and undue influence, and thereby has given to my granddaughter, Priscilla Leaming, a plantation, called Edmond Howell's place, which he had no right to do, he being under a solemn covenant to suffer it to pass otherwise if he died without issue, and in describing the land so given to my granddaughter, Priscilla, he extended the lines about three hundred rods into my land, which the said Jeremiah never did own, this being procured by his advisers, as it should seem to create animosity among my family, yet I being willing my granddaughter should enjoy the same, I have devised the same to her. Niece, Lydia Schelinger, wife of Cornelius Schelinger, £6, and not to be paid to her husband. To Aaron Taylor, son of my nephew, John Taylor, a cow. Witnesses—Elijah Matthews, Stephen Stephens, Simeon Iszard.

1780, Aug. 17. Codicil. Whereas, Jonathan Smith, Elijah Matthews and Steven Stevens, 3 of the witnesses to my will, have departed this life, therefore this Codicil. Witnesses—Jacob Smith, Daniel Garretson, Enoch Smith, Jonathan Garretson, Archibald Campbell. Proved Sept. 8, 1780.

1764, May 5. Van Harlingen, Johannes M., of Lawrence Brook, New Brunswick, Middlesex Co.; will of. My plantation at Lawrence Brook, with the negroes and horses, to be sold, and the money put to interest. Wife, Maria Van Harlingen, to have said interest. The 112 acres of land, where my son Arnoldus' widow lives with her children, said children may hold as their property, they being 6 in number. The salt meadow shall remain in common for all my children. An inheritance is due to me in Holland from my nephew, Jan De Cerff, in his life Lord of Old Beyerland, and I desire that it be divided in 8 parts, that is to say, to my said wife, 4 sons and 2 daughters, namely, Johannes Martinus, Ernestus, Hendricus and Edward, and Johanna and Eva; the 6 children of Arnoldus, when they are of age, and my wife, while alive. Seeing I have an estate in fee tail in the Manor and Lordship, lying at Old Beyerland in Holland, which came to me as next in tail to Jan Cerff, which my oldest son would have to himself as next in tail, according to law, and thus would be much richer than his other brothers and sisters, which I, being willing to prevent, have for that end obtained the grant of Letters Patent, dated 7th of Sept., 1759, to enable me to dispose of all my estate in tail by will, a copy of which now rests with me, and is to be held valid by this my will, which estate is to be divided to all my children, after having been sold; and they are to allow to my 3 brothers, Martinus, Edward and Ernestus, all living in Holland, out of the proceeds, $\frac{1}{3}$ part to each of them. My son, Johannes, being the oldest, I give him above his $\frac{1}{7}$ part, £25. My sons, Henricus and Edward, now follow merchandizing in New York, are the most fit to keep an account thereof in a book, which their brothers and sisters are to see from time to time. Executors—Johannes Martinus, Ernestus, Henricus and Edward, my 4 sons. Witnesses—Francois Van Dicke, Jacobus Stryker, Johannes Out Gelt. Proved Oct. 4, 1771.

- II. INDEX OF PLACE-NAMES

Index of Names of Persons

NOTE.—The names of testators, intestate persons, or wards, printed in heavy type in the preceding text, are not repeated in this Index, as a rule.

Where surnames in common use to-day, or at least with well-known spellings, are unusually or curiously used in the text, the current modern spelling is substituted in this Index, to facilitate reference. An exception is where proper spelling is uncertain. To a lesser extent the same rule has been applied to Christian names.
